The party decided to enter the Sewage Tunnel, where Kroc-gar scouted ahead and found a dead spy with similar branding. An unseen archer fired at him, raising the alarm, prompting the party to engage in combat.

Kallista cast a Fire Bolt at the archer, while Sorn and Grix provided ranged support. After a series of attacks, Kroc-gar killed the archer and discovered a room filled with supplies. The larger foe in the room conjured a Crimson Dagger, which drew Kroc-gar's attention. In the ensuing battle, Aoife beheaded the dagger wielder, and Kroc-gar felt a surge of power from the dagger, leading him to cut off the wielder's hand.

The party searched the room and found a Concealed Storage Room containing various knots and a vial of Ambermao. Aoife confirmed that tainted knots were present and led the party deeper into the Packed-Earth Workroom, where they encountered Renna, a wood-elf woman. After a confrontation about the unnatural nature of her work, a fight broke out, culminating in Kallista casting a Fireball that destroyed the moths and blooms. Renna collapsed dying after revealing her intentions, and Aoife stayed with her as she passed away, sharing a bond forged from their past. Jexim then cast Speak with Dead on Renna's corpse as the garden burned around them.
