

Tir Na Beatha: Dark Ties and Hidden Threats

April 11, 2026 - Session 7

Outline

Revelations and Meetings

- Aoife revealed the cause of suicidal compulsion in the Market District.
- The party met Tekia the Silent at The Rain Barrel, who blamed the Crimson Daggers.
- The group decided to seek kobolds in the sewers.

Seeking Information

- The party reached Artisan's Haven and approached the Scale Pile.
- They found Nox, who refused payment for information.
- Nox described the sewer layout and warned of dangers.

Druidic Assistance

- The party sought the Dagda Grove druids for help.
- Elowen used druidic magic to gather information about Tuatha sightings.
- They found a kobold-sized tunnel and advanced to the main sewer access.

Confrontation with the Crimson Daggers

- The party spotted a sewer entrance guarded by brutes.
- A skirmish broke out with the guards, including archers and thugs.
- Sorn killed the archer, and the battle continued against the remaining foes.

Session Summary

Aoife revealed that a wave of suicidal compulsion in the Market District was caused by a tainted knot known as the Dark Knot, which was traded to a stall. She explained that these knots are made from lumina silk by the Weave Mothers and can be corrupted by flawed making or intense emotions. The party then met Tekia the Silent, a goliath from the Guild of the Gathering Storm, at The Rain Barrel. Tekia denied the guild's involvement in counterfeiting and blamed a splinter group called the Crimson Daggers operating on the riverbank, offering a bounty on them.

The group sought out kobolds in the sewers, heading toward the River District and crossing into Artisan's Haven. After locating a kobold sorcerer's shop and the Scale Pile, they met a kobold who led them to Nox, a maintenance kobold. Nox displayed unusual apathy, refusing payment for information about the sewer layout. After some intimidation from Sorn, Nox described the sewer layout and warned of big insects and voices in the sewers, directing the party to an outspout near the docks.

The party then sought the help of the Dagda Grove druids to locate a hidden passage between the grove and the River District. They encountered Elowen, who used druidic magic to learn about Tuatha sightings near the riverbank. Afterward, the group found a kobold-sized tunnel entrance and advanced to the main sewer access, where they spotted a sewer entrance guarded by brutes from the Crimson Daggers. A skirmish ensued, with Grix, Kallista, Sorn, and others engaging in combat against the guards, resulting in the archer being killed and the party continuing their assault on the remaining foes and the emerging Crimson Dagger members.

The session concluded with the party in the midst of battle, having successfully eliminated one archer and continuing to confront the remaining threats from the Crimson Daggers at the sewer entrance, setting the stage for further conflict and exploration of the sewers and their mysteries.

MOMENT

Etha's Revelation of the Dark Knot

In the Market District, Aoife reveals a tainted artifact called a "Dark Knot," made from lumina silk by the Weave Mothers. These knots absorb emotional energy and spread despair. The group must choose to confront the source of corruption or seek the Weave Mothers for answers, feeling the urgency and responsibility to act before more victims are claimed.

MOMENT

Bounty on the Crimson Daggers

Inside The Rain Barrel, hushed conversations mix with the scent of damp wood and ale. Tekia the Silent denies her guild's involvement in the counterfeiting scandal, blaming the Crimson Daggers. With a bounty on them, she urges the party to act. Kroc-gar suggests tailing a gang member, while Grix warns of their violence. The party strategizes, knowing their decision carries significant consequences.

MOMENT

Confrontation in the Dagda Grove

The party enters Dagda Grove, filled with floral scents. A frustrated Summer-aspect eladrin confronts them, but another eladrin intervenes, calming the situation and attracting nearby druids. Kroc-gar suggests engaging the druids for insights on local trees and Tuatha activity, while Jexim hesitates. The eladrin's intervention hints at potential alliances within the grove's wisdom.

Confrontation at the Sewer Entrance

- The party approached a crudely built door likely leading to the sewers, guarded by two brutes and an archer.
- Grix attempted to sneak toward the archer but was detected, prompting the archer to shoot him.
- Kallista and Sorn engaged the guards, with Kallista hitting a thug with a fire bolt and Sorn inflicting heavy damage on the archer.
- The skirmish escalated with Grix engaging the archer in melee and Sorn shooting at the archer, who was eventually killed.

Battle with the Crimson Daggers

- The party engaged multiple foes, including thugs and a Crimson Dagger emerging from the tunnel.
- Aoife used her skills to entangle and take down a thug while Kallista launched fire bolts at the enemies.
- Jexim attempted to command a dagger but failed, then healed Grix during the fight.
- The battle continued with Grix and Sorn striking back at the thugs, with Sorn ultimately killing the archer.

Key Entities

- Tekia the Silent: Met the party at The Rain Barrel and denied the guild's involvement in counterfeiting, blaming the Crimson Daggers instead.
- Crimson Daggers: A splinter group blamed for counterfeiting and operating on the riverbank, leading to a bounty offered by Tekia.
- Dagda Grove: The location where the party sought assistance from druids to locate a hidden passage.

- Nox: A sewer-maintenance kobold who displayed unusual apathy and refused payment for information about the sewer layout.
- Scale Pile: A kobold hostel where the party sought information about the sewers.
- Old Barky: An old oak tree that Elowen conversed with to gather information about unusual traffic between the forest and river.

Aoife

- Revealed the cause of the suicidal compulsion in the Market District, linking it to a tainted knot. She later led the group toward the riverbank and engaged in combat against the Crimson Daggers.
- Noted Nox's unusual apathy and sensed no corrupt energy from the Dark Knot.
 - Entangled and took down a thug during the skirmish with the Crimson Daggers.

Sorn

- Intimidated Nox into sharing information about the sewer layout and later engaged in combat against the guards. He successfully killed the archer during the confrontation.
- Observed Nox's tools and noted their lack of use, indicating something was wrong.
 - Fired arrows at the archer, ultimately killing him with a well-placed shot.

Grix

- Attempted to scout the area but was detected by the archer, leading to a confrontation. He engaged in melee with the archer and thugs during the battle.
- Checked the riverbank for an outlet pipe but found none.
 - Sustained damage from the second thug but managed to stab him before retreating.

NOTABLE ITEMS

Item	Description
Dark Knot	A tainted knot responsible for a wave of suicidal compulsion in the Market District, linked to the Weave Mothers.
Lumina Silk	The material used to create knots by the Weave Mothers, which can be corrupted.
Tin and Square Knots	Items used by Jexim to pay the host kobold for looking after Nox.
Weighted Silk Rope	An item used by Aoife to entangle a thug during the skirmish.
Plant-Speaking Ritual Components	Components gathered by Elowen to perform a ritual to communicate with Old Barky.

Valuable Information

1. The tainted knot known as the Dark Knot is linked to suicidal compulsion in the Market District.
2. Nox's unusual apathy is abnormal for kobolds and has been reported in other cases at Crenuus.
3. The kobolds in the sewers have reported big insects and voices in certain areas, indicating potential dangers.
4. Tuatha have been seen emerging from the forest near the riverbank, suggesting their involvement in recent disturbances.
5. The party learned of a kobold-sized tunnel entrance near the riverbank that could lead to further exploration.
6. The Crimson Daggers are actively guarding a sewer entrance, indicating their presence and potential threat.

Party Status

- The party is currently engaged in combat against the Crimson Daggers at a sewer entrance, having eliminated one archer and sustaining some injuries.
- Grix has been injured but is still in the fight.
 - Sorn has successfully killed the archer, boosting party morale.
 - The party has a plan to investigate the sewer layout further.

Next Steps

The party intends to continue their assault on the remaining Crimson Daggers and explore the sewer entrance.

7. Elowen's conversation with Old Barky revealed unusual traffic between the forest and the river, hinting at secret activities.